

Introducing the new modernenglishteacher, incorporating ENGLISH TEACHING professional

From January 2022, Pavilion ELT will be uniting more than 55 years' worth of expertise in our new magazine offering. We are excited to announce the merging of Modern English Teacher and English Teaching professional, into one fantastic resource that will support teachers through all stages of their career – from trainees through to being expert teachers, teacher trainers and even managers. The new Modern English Teacher will be packed full of practical resources and ideas, the latest research and topical discussions, both online and in print.

In this updated super-sized magazine, you will see many familiar sections, as well as a whole host of exciting new features. You will have access to the thousands of online articles and resources from both magazines plus much more, and will be able to use MyCPD seamlessly across them all to compile and track your professional development along the way.

Wherever you are in your career, and wherever you are in the world, we look forward to introducing you properly to the new magazine very shortly.

What will be included in your new subscription?

- Six magazine issues each year (each the size of the current Modern English Teacher), available both online and, depending on your subscription, in print. These bumper-sized magazines will include many of the familiar features you know and love from both magazines, plus some exciting new ones.
- An online research centre with thousands of articles and printable resources from both magazines, searchable by author, keyword and subject.
- An online library where you can find digital issues from both magazines, for you to flick through and read on your chosen device.
- Access to MyCPD where you can compile, track and record all your professional development.
